As Daring as His Name-Sake.

Paterson (N. J.) Press.

Napoleon Bonaparte Barney, a machinist employed in the Rogers Locomotive Works at Paterson, was divorced from his wife and she went to her former home near Utica. Mr. Barney, who is about sixty, married a Miss Sutton sixteen years of age. They had one child. In the summer of 1880, Mr. Barney's grown-up son by his first wife, named Willard Barney, came to Paterson from Utica and fell in love with his step mother. Then Mrs. Barney the first came to Paterson and met her former husband. He was surprised to find himself glad to see her. A family council was held the result of which has just come to light. The old man obtained a divorce from his young wife and a day or two ago re-married his first wife. At the same time his son married his father's second wife and became his step-brother's step-father.

A terrible tragedy occurred at Piqua, O., Thursday. Rheinhardt Stelzer, about fifty-six years of age, shot his wife and then himself, both fatally. Stelzer was an inmate, a few years ago, of the lunatic asylum at Dayton Ohio, but was released as being cured. Of late he has been somewhat dissipated, and while under the influence of liquor, he stepped up behind his wife, who was sitting in a rocking chair and placing a revolver to the back of her head, fired killing her instantly. He then went to his bedroom, laid down on the bed placed the revolver to his breast and fired three shots, only one of which pierced the chest. He then fired a fourth shot into his brain, which caused death almost instantly.
